

THE GROUP ISSUANCE NIGHT

Sixty minutes. Every family crosses the same line together.

The family ceremony, done as a congregation. Six weeks after Phone License Sunday, the families who finished stand up in the same room they started in. Nobody gets a phone in a parking lot.

WHO'S IN THE ROOM

Every family that finished — parents and the teen being licensed. Siblings welcome. Grandparents encouraged; they make excellent witnesses. Families still finishing can come and watch; it's the best motivation there is.

ROLES

Host	Pastor or the Sunday host. Reads the italic lines.
Reader	One parent volunteer. Tells the story at 0:10.
Table	Certificates and wallet cards, alphabetized, one helper.
Photos	One person, one spot, every family.

SUPPLIES

- ☐ Certificates — printed, names filled, church line filled
- ☐ Wallet cards, one per teen
- ☐ Each family's signed agreement (they bring it)
- ☐ Each teen's phone, off, in a box or bag with their name
- ☐ The Parent Statement, one copy per parent — read in unison
- ☐ A photo spot with the church name visible
- ☐ Dessert. Still the rule.

THE TONE

Confirmation, not graduation. Slow, a little formal, unhurried. The teens will act like it's cringe. Cringe is what a rite of passage feels like from inside. Don't apologize for it — that's what makes it one.

0:00	Gather. Phones to the table, in their boxes. Teens hand in their phone — off — at the door. Families sit together. Agreements on laps.	TABLE
0:05	Welcome. "Six weeks ago most of you sat in this room and named the fight. Tonight the fight is a signed piece of paper. Nobody in here is getting a phone. Every teenager in here is being issued a license."	HOST
0:10	One parent's story. Three minutes. A volunteer parent tells the story from their own Launch Dinner — or the story of the first time someone trusted them with something they could have wrecked. Coached beforehand: feelings, not lessons.	READER
0:15	The teens read Article I. Every teen stands where they are and reads their family's Vision line — one sentence each, around the room. Nobody claps between. Clap once, at the end.	HOST · TEENS
0:22	The Parent Statement, in unison. Parents stand. Host reads it a line at a time; the room repeats. Ends with: "You've earned this. Keep the trust." Let the silence after it hold for a breath.	HOST · PARENTS
0:28	The Emergency Rule — parents to teens, face to face. Parents turn to their own kid and say it, from the card. Not the host. The parent. This is the moment. "If something scary happens on your phone, you come to us. Our only job is to help. No punishment. No lecture. No shame."	PARENTS
0:33	Names called. Certificate, card, phone. One family at a time to the front. Host reads the teen's name and license number. The parent hands over the certificate; the host hands over the wallet card; the parent opens the box and hands over the phone with both hands. Photo. Next family. About ninety seconds each.	HOST · TABLE · PHOTOS
0:52	The first text — all at once. "Turn them on. First text goes to the parent standing next to you. Write your own — or write this: 'Thanks for trusting me. I'll keep it.'" Wait for the buzzes. It's the best sound of the night.	HOST
0:55	Blessing. Dessert. "May you be brave enough to look up. May you be kind in rooms nobody else can see. And may this small, bright thing in your hand never become the biggest thing in your life. Amen."	HOST

THE CERTIFICATE • CHURCH EDITION

Same certificate. One added line.

The Certificate of Issuance from the Fulfillment Kit, with a church line under the body and the church as witness. Prints from the same Letter-landscape file; the church name is a fill-in so one PDF serves every congregation.
